Restorative Therapies is the global industry leader in functional electrical stimulation (FES) therapy systems for neurorehabilitation both in the clinic and at home. Our mission is to help individuals living with paralysis or weakness, as a result of a neurological injury or condition, achieve their full recovery potential and reduce secondary complications.

The RT300 is an advanced therapy system with integrated functional electrical stimulation (iFES™) precisely paired with coordinated movement. The proprietary software provides real-time biofeedback and sophisticated control algorithms optimized to address a wide range of neurological impairments. Data-tracking via RTILink.com allows clinicians and patients to easily track progress to maximize outcomes.
